

Please End the Blackout Rule Now!

I do not make that much money, but I love my Kansas City Chiefs. Once a season my friends and I save up enough money to go to one game a year. It's a big event for us. We wake up early, pay the $22.00 in parking, tailgate and make a day of it. I would love to go to every game but I just cannot afford it, as well as all of my friends I watch the games with. Every game we don't get to go to we get together and cook food and watch it on television. The Chiefs are not always the greatest team and have come under threat of a blackout many times. I do not know what I would do on Sundays if I didn't have the wonderful distraction from my mediocre life called the NFL. I do not understand how the NFL owners could have this type of control especially since the stadiums are subsidized by the tax payers and then they get to deny them the ability to watch the game. The high parking and ticket price is bad enough. Is it going to get to the point where we will have to insert money into our televisions to watch the game? I would, as well as many others, appreciate if the powers at be at the FCC would side with the little man for once, because without us there would be no money making Goliath called the NFL. I thank you for your consideration and reading my letter.
